

Supply Chain Career journey

Agile, collaborative & forward thinking

Supply Chain and Procurement is just one of our key functional departments here at BlueScope Distribution. This highly talented team is responsible for all of our steel and aluminium product sourcing needs to support a superior customer experience.

The Supply Chain and Procurement function involves demand planning, production planning, forecasting, and procurement of steel and aluminium products to support the BlueScope Distribution sales and operations teams to deliver on our customer requirements.

Supply Chain role examples

- National Supply Chain Manager
- National Procurement Leader
- National Procurement Specialist
- State Supply Chain Manager
- Supply Chain Planning Coordinator
- Supply Sourcing and Category Specialist
- Supply Chain Effectiveness Manager

Competencies developed and experiences obtained by working in Supply Chain

-  Drivers of commercial success
-  Creative problem solvers
-  Working as collaborative partners
-  Results achievers
-  Builders of customer value

Why choose a career in Supply Chain?

Working in Supply Chain will give you the knowledge you need to manage the flow of goods and services by understanding the logistics, planning, inventory demands, transportation, and execution behind moving products from production facilities to their final destination. Delivering products and services at the right time, right place, right cost, and at the right quantity and quality is at the heart of logistics and supply chain management. Supply Chain departments are everywhere – regional, national, global! It's an integral part of a business and the economy and qualified personnel are in high demand. People with a desire to understand patterns and trends within data, and then communicate this in a clear and simple way are often successful in a supply chain role. Being able to work with data and information, problem solve, think on your feet and be calm under pressure is also advantageous.

Our people represent all parts of our community, and a career with BlueScope Distribution can lead you down many different pathways. Being part of BlueScope Distribution means you can pursue your career goals and aspirations.

bluescopedistribution.com.au

 Follow us on LinkedIn

